

Small Group One (9:00 - 9:30)

Purpose: To establish confidentiality as a group, to make any needed introductions, and to introduce conversation about the subject of sexual purity.

Question One:

What did you think about the opening session's representation of the world's view of sexuality?"

- What did you think about the points that they were making?
- Were you aware of how much sexuality is used to sell non-sex related products?
- Do you feel that it is hard to escape sexual content on the internet?
- Do you even notice sexuality in the media or are you desensitized to it?

Question Two:

After seeing all that filth and after having this discussion, how would you define sexual impurity?

- Is it impure to with these commercials?
- Does impurity go beyond what you see?
 - In what ways?
- Can you be sexually impure even if you aren't dating anyone?

Small Group Two (1:40 - 2:20)

Purpose: This small group is intended for them to reflect on their personal sins. Make sure that you "reflect feelings" by making statements like, "You look like you've got something on your mind" or "You seem focused." This will open them up quickly. Also, in this session, be prepared to answer these questions for yourself if necessary. Also, make sure you stay away from "yes/no" questions. Ask open ended questions: "Tell me about what... What does that look like... how do you..."

Start with prayer. You may also choose to give your personal testimony if you want. It's completely up to you.

Questions:

- What are some different ways that we or our friends struggle with sexual purity?
- Where do you derive your standards for sexual purity?
- What are some of your standards?
- Do you find it difficult to meet those standards on a daily basis?
- If you're not struggling now, what could you see becoming a struggle in the future?
- In what ways do you see sexual immorality affecting your marriage?
 - Your future in general?
 - Your effectiveness as a parent one day?
- Who do you talk to about these sins?
- Do you have any boundaries?
 - How would you respond if your boyfriend or girlfriend didn't have those same boundaries?
- What level of purity would you like for your future spouse to have when you marry them?

If you have time, or if no conversation is taking place, consider getting into the "hot seat" yourself. Let them ask you anything they want to, but make them discuss the topic after you answer.

This will lead into game time. Take the opportunity to seek out a teenager if you feel like they may need more counsel after this discussion.
